

HOLD FOR RELEASE UNTIL JULY 16, 2019

Press Release

Gaige Broughton, an emerging author, publishes a collection of flash pieces that follow people who are fighting with their personal demons called Killers Behind Closed Door.

Available for Pre-Review

Winter Park, FL, July 15, 2019: Gaige Broughton has announced his new horror and mystery e-book Killers Behind Closed Door is available at Smashwords.com $7.99.

A serial killer named “Jerry” chases Adam, a scraggly teen who struggles to escape his grasp. Adam goes through a series of events that hinder his chances of living through the night in this slasher story.

After becoming a “Widow,” Katherine is called in by a detective as he is on the verge of discovering her true intentions.

“My Everything” concerns a man dealing with his inner turmoil while sitting next to his future husband’s hospital bed.

Finally, a wealthy writer discovers “The Feather” on his doorstep that gives him the power to bring his work to life. Unfortunately, every action requires an opposite, but equal, reaction.

Gaige Broughton is a game writer who creates stories that contain people overcoming their personal struggles in expansive science fiction/fantasy worlds. He is earning a Bachelor of Fine Arts in Creative Writing of Entertainment and has published flash fiction work in the Scarlet Leaf Review. Most of the time, you can find him lost deep within vast or strategic video game worlds.

Gaige published Killers Behind Closed Doors through Smashwords.com the world's largest publisher for authors and independent publishers to publish and distribute e-books to the industry's major retailers and provide e-books in a wide variety of digital formats.
